

Paintings and Artists Referenced in

Beneath the Swirling Sky

Paintings you can visit:

- Starry Night, Vincent van Gogh, Museum of Modern Art, New York City, (seen at Uncle Leo's)
- Corridor in the Asylum, Vincent van Gogh, The Met, New York City (Not on view at the time of this writing)
- Expressman, Norman Rockwell, The Met, New York City
- Belshazzar's Feast, Rembrandt, National Gallery, London
- The Potato Eaters, Vincent van Gogh, Van Gogh Museum, Amsterdam
- Wheatfield with Crows, Vincent van Gogh, Van Gogh Museum, Amsterdam
- Water Mill at Gennep, Vincent van Gogh, Van Gogh Museum, Amsterdam
- Self Portrait with Pipe, Vincent van Gogh, Van Gogh Museum, Amsterdam
- Iris, 1890, Vincent van Gogh, Van Gogh Museum, Amsterdam
- The Sunken Path, Jules Dupré, Van Gogh Museum, Amsterdam
- M.C. Escher's drawings are referenced, but no particular one is depicted. However, I highly recommend checking out a library book of his fascinating work.

Privately owned paintings, seen at Uncle Leo's house

- Nature Forms – Gaspé, Georgia O'Keeffe
- Self-Portrait Very Ugly, 1933, Frida Kahlo
- Woman with Red Umbrella Seated in Profile, Henri Matisse
- Sous-bois à Fontainebleau, Paul Cézanne
- Stained Glass Artist, Norman Rockwell
- Portrait of a gentleman, circa 1590, Nicholas Hilliard
- Portrait of a Lady, circa 1605, Nicholas Hilliard

Stolen paintings yet to be recovered

- Storm on the Sea of Galilee, Rembrandt:
- Landscape in the Neighborhood of Saint-Rémy, Vincent van Gogh